

SOCIETÀ SAN PAOLO

«...Love, true love is inventive. When one has fire in the heart (not something sentimental and vaporous), so many initiatives and many industries come about. True love is one that is shown by the daily fatigue of the apostolate: it makes one think, run, organize».

(BLESSED JAMES ALBERIONE)

26 November 2017

With joy, we celebrate today, with the whole Church, the liturgical feast of Blessed James Alberione, who knew how to face, with “inventive love”, the challenges of evangelization in the reality of communication of his time. Certainly, he has found the source of this love in Jesus, from whose heart emanates the love that illuminates the path and fills those who follow him with courage.

United with the Pauline Family, let us renew our desire to find in Christ's love, as our Founder did, the strength to break all kinds of self-reference and to announce, with creativity and audacity, the Gospel with the different languages of communication, reaching everyone, especially to the distant ones, to the poor, to those who live in the existential peripheries.

Best wishes to all! With affections,

Father Valdir José De Castro
Superior General
